When you are considering plastic surgery, the most important decision you will make is choosing the right doctor. Dr. Amy T. Bandy is a board certified plastic surgeon who is known for her skill, compassion and expertise, especially in the areas of facial plastic surgery and “mommy makeovers.”

“Pregnancy can really take a toll on a woman’s body,” explains Dr. Bandy. “Thankfully, there are so many surgical options today that can help reverse the unwanted effects of childbearing and aging.”

Dr. Bandy notes that breast augmentation/lift, tummy tuck, and liposuction are all part of her repertoire of procedures that can help moms of all ages feel a renewed sense of self confidence in their appearance.

When it comes to facial plastic surgery, Dr. Bandy is a highly skilled surgeon who understands a woman’s desire to look refreshed and renewed, not artificially altered. Dr. Bandy uses a combination of surgical and non-invasive techniques, including face lift, neck lift, brow lift, and eyelid surgery, coupled with peels, laser treatments and fillers to create beautiful, natural-looking outcomes.

It’s no surprise that many of Dr. Bandy’s patients come to her as referrals from satisfied former patients. If you have considered improving your appearance, or simply want to restore your appearance to a more youthful state, Dr. Amy T. Bandy can help you attain the look you want with the least amount of down time for recovery.

Dr. Bandy practices all aspects of plastic surgery from her two Southern California offices in the South Bay and Newport Beach. Please visit our web site at www.drbandy.com for examples of the type of procedure you are interested in.
